

NEW YORK GOLFERS WIN

Recapture Lesley Cup from Representatives of Massachusetts.

FAVORITES MEET DEFEAT

Herreshoff and Kirkby Go Down Before Whittemore and Wilder on Nassau Links.

In a series of contests that kept the gallery on the edge of its seat to finish the day, the golfers of the Massachusetts Club defeated the Nassau Club yesterday. As a result, the Lesley cup returns to the New York district, which it had lingered for so many years until Boston lifted it at Myopia last September.

Surprises came early when local favorites met defeat. In points, the success of W. Whittemore, of Brookline, over Fred Herreshoff, and the victory of Henry H. Wilder over Oswald Kirkby, the Englewood star, going out Herreshoff held his own with the Bostonian fairly well until a pulled drive out of bounds at the eighth cost the first named that hole.

Whittemore made the green with a good second shot and supplemented this by bringing off the put for a 3. It was a shame to watch that fine shot, for it was a foregone conclusion that Whittemore would walk to the next tee. He considered it wasted, as a 4 would have won.

In this way the pair kept together, never far apart. Going to the home hole Whittemore still had his advantage of 1 up, but when he pulled his second shot to the rough and was off the green on the next, it looked reasonably certain that Herreshoff would win the hole.

Wilder and Kirkby also carried their match to the home green. At the third the Massachusetts golfer laid his opponent a styxie, and it prevented Kirkby from winning it in 4. They were level at the turn, both going out in 25. Kirkby should have won the home hole, which would have enabled him to break even.

Coming back Travis made one of his odd time finishes, though he had luck to add the sixteenth, where Anderson's ball moved the other way in a net of putting. They halved the seventeenth, but Travis got the home hole in 4 and the match by 2 up. He made a 73, as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Hole number and Score. Shows scores for various holes and total score of 73.

Gilman P. Tiffany played good golf against T. O. Fuller, a former Masses title holder. When they reached the home green the match stood all even, but Tiffany did not relish going to an extra hole, so he ran down a twenty-foot put for a 4 and won. He made the round in 75 to the other's 76.

With an advantage of two matches to start the two-ball foursome in the afternoon, the metropolitan supporters felt as if victory was reasonably sure, but it was not until near the end that they were covered on all safety. Travis and Tiffany were opposed to Anderson and Fuller, and during the outward journey the metropolitan pair did not work well together.

Whittemore and Wilder defeated Herreshoff and Kirkby, 3 up and 2 to play, while Chick and Stucklen downed Behr and Held on the home green. It looked as if Gardner White and W. L. Hicks were doomed to defeat as well, but the New York pair got level at the home hole and won with a 3 at the nineteenth. They defeated Francis Guilmet and Heinrich Schmidt. Oimmet had been substituted for F. H. Hoyt.

Included among those on hand were F. S. Wheeler, James L. Taylor and W. D. Vanderpool, president, vice-president and secretary, respectively, of the Metropolitan Golf Association; Herbert Jacques and H. E. Freeman, of Boston. Jacques is the Massachusetts Golf Association president and Freeman is the secretary.

Summary of golf matches, listing names and scores for various holes and overall results.

DUNCAN AGAIN IN FRONT

Wins Four-Ball Match Paired Up with Jack Hobens.

George Duncan, the Scotch professional, who is visiting America, and Jack Hobens, the professional of the Englewood Country Club, defeated Alex Smith, of Wykiski, and Davo Hunter, the home "pro" in a four-ball match yesterday. The match was played on the Links of the Englewood Country Club, yesterday by 3 up and 2 to play for thirty-six holes. Duncan's 71 in the afternoon round proved to be the best of the day. The course was tricky, for while the greens were been they were slippery, and occasionally the players would miss short puts.

Scorecard for the four-ball match between Duncan and Hobens vs. Smith and Hunter.

BALTUSROL GOLF CLUB.

Plenty of golf was played at the Baltusrol Golf Club yesterday, for besides the qualifying round of the cup presented by the association committee, a handicap affair against bogie, the first and second rounds at match play for the Baltusrol cup and medal play events for the Davidge and autumn cups, were run off. The scores and summary follow.

Scorecard for Baltusrol Golf Club matches, listing names and scores.

Scorecard for Baltusrol Golf Club matches, listing names and scores.

Scorecard for Baltusrol Golf Club matches, listing names and scores.

Scorecard for Baltusrol Golf Club matches, listing names and scores.

Scorecard for Baltusrol Golf Club matches, listing names and scores.

Scorecard for Baltusrol Golf Club matches, listing names and scores.

Scorecard for Baltusrol Golf Club matches, listing names and scores.

Scorecard for Baltusrol Golf Club matches, listing names and scores.

Scorecard for Baltusrol Golf Club matches, listing names and scores.

Scorecard for Baltusrol Golf Club matches, listing names and scores.

ROUNDING FIRST TURN IN ONE-MILE RACE AT NEW YORK A. C. GAMES.

Palmetto State Oarsmen Win a Notable Victory

New York Naval Militia Crew Second in Race for Coveted Trophy.

Pulling a clean and steady stroke of forty to the minute, the sturdy naval militia men from Charleston, S. C., sent their navy cutter first across the finish line yesterday afternoon in one of the best contests for that type of boat yet seen on a two-mile course on the Hudson River. The time of the winning crew for that distance was 11 minutes 23 seconds. A crew from Massachusetts Naval Militia was second, 11 minutes 33 seconds. The crew from New Jersey was fourth, 11 minutes 45 seconds.

Commander Russell Raynor, of the New York battalion, with Dr. Walter Peet as referee, on board the launch Mohican, started the boats off 26th street at 4:38 p. m. on the last of the flood tide and in choppy water. The positions of the boats from the start were: New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey, and South Carolina.

From the start it was seen that the Charleston men would have to be seriously reckoned with. They set a killing pace of forty-eight strokes to the minute. It was a short stroke, with a quick recovery, that kept the crew from tiring.

Under the direction of Jim Rice, the coach, and J. S. Dowling, '12, the captain of the varsity crew for the coming year, rowing practice will be started, for the freshmen, at least, in the early part of the week. It is Rice's intention to work out the rowing team in University Hall for a week or more before putting them in barges. He is doing this, he says, in order that the youngsters may get used to the feel of a sliding seat and the handling of the sweep.

At West New Brighton yesterday the soccer players of the Staten Island Cricket and Tennis Club met and defeated the Richmond County team in a Field Club League championship game by the one-sided score of 3 goals to 2. In the first half the Staten Islanders established a lead of 3-0, two of the goals being netted by H. C. Kitcher, one of the star linemen.

The Montclair Athletic Club association football eleven, which tied with the Crescent eleven last year in a championship match, succumbed to the prowess of the Central Young Men's Christian Association eleven, of Brooklyn, in a match at the Prospect Park grounds yesterday. The totals being 3 goals to 0. The home team scored in the first half through a telling shot by Danielson. In the second period of play Danielson netted the ball once more and Orr scored the third goal for the Central.

In Glen Ridge, N. J., Sept. 30. Members of the Glen Ridge Golf Club met to play today for the October cups with the qualifying round in Classes A and B. Those who qualified and their scores were as follows:

Table of golf scores for Glen Ridge Golf Club, listing names and scores for various classes.

ATHLETICS AT COLUMBIA CRICKET SEASON ENDS

Candidates for Various Teams Preparing for Work. Camerons Defeat Picked Team at Van Cortlandt Park.

Winding up the cricket season at Van Cortlandt Park yesterday afternoon, the Camerons, winners of the Van Cortlandt Park League championship, scored a triumph over a picked team representing the other clubs in the league, in a low scoring game, on totals of 45 to 29. A late start was made, and it was due to the good sportsmanship of the league team's captain that the Camerons were able to finish before darkness set in.

Under the direction of Jim Rice, the coach, and J. S. Dowling, '12, the captain of the varsity crew for the coming year, rowing practice will be started, for the freshmen, at least, in the early part of the week. It is Rice's intention to work out the rowing team in University Hall for a week or more before putting them in barges.

At Van Cortlandt Park yesterday afternoon, the Camerons, winners of the Van Cortlandt Park League championship, scored a triumph over a picked team representing the other clubs in the league, in a low scoring game, on totals of 45 to 29. A late start was made, and it was due to the good sportsmanship of the league team's captain that the Camerons were able to finish before darkness set in.

Under the direction of Jim Rice, the coach, and J. S. Dowling, '12, the captain of the varsity crew for the coming year, rowing practice will be started, for the freshmen, at least, in the early part of the week. It is Rice's intention to work out the rowing team in University Hall for a week or more before putting them in barges.

Table of cricket scores for Van Cortlandt Park, listing names and scores.

Table of cricket scores for Van Cortlandt Park, listing names and scores.

Table of cricket scores for Van Cortlandt Park, listing names and scores.

Table of cricket scores for Van Cortlandt Park, listing names and scores.

Table of cricket scores for Van Cortlandt Park, listing names and scores.

Palmetto State Oarsmen Win a Notable Victory

New York Naval Militia Crew Second in Race for Coveted Trophy.

Pulling a clean and steady stroke of forty to the minute, the sturdy naval militia men from Charleston, S. C., sent their navy cutter first across the finish line yesterday afternoon in one of the best contests for that type of boat yet seen on a two-mile course on the Hudson River.

Commander Russell Raynor, of the New York battalion, with Dr. Walter Peet as referee, on board the launch Mohican, started the boats off 26th street at 4:38 p. m. on the last of the flood tide and in choppy water.

From the start it was seen that the Charleston men would have to be seriously reckoned with. They set a killing pace of forty-eight strokes to the minute. It was a short stroke, with a quick recovery, that kept the crew from tiring.

Under the direction of Jim Rice, the coach, and J. S. Dowling, '12, the captain of the varsity crew for the coming year, rowing practice will be started, for the freshmen, at least, in the early part of the week.

At West New Brighton yesterday the soccer players of the Staten Island Cricket and Tennis Club met and defeated the Richmond County team in a Field Club League championship game by the one-sided score of 3 goals to 2.

The Montclair Athletic Club association football eleven, which tied with the Crescent eleven last year in a championship match, succumbed to the prowess of the Central Young Men's Christian Association eleven, of Brooklyn, in a match at the Prospect Park grounds yesterday.

In Glen Ridge, N. J., Sept. 30. Members of the Glen Ridge Golf Club met to play today for the October cups with the qualifying round in Classes A and B.

Table of golf scores for Glen Ridge Golf Club, listing names and scores.

Some of the best high jumping that has been seen around New York in years marked the annual fall handicap games of the New York Athletic Club, at Travers Island, yesterday afternoon. Harry J. Gruppelt, of the Mercury Foot organization, cleared the bar at 6 feet 3 inches, and in an effort to better M. F. Swenson's long standing record of 4 feet 2 1/2 inches, cleared with an ace of setting a new world's mark.

Although the crowd was late in arriving, when it had gathered its full force it was one of the largest that has ever crowded into the Travers Island grounds. The grandstand seats on two sides of the field were jammed, and every inch of space on the terraces on the other two sides was filled up. Although the air became more than chilly when the sun dropped behind the hills, nevertheless it was not cold enough to dampen enthusiasm.

One of the first surprises of the day came when A. T. Meyer, the metropolitan champion in the hundred, was shut out in the semi-final heat of the 120-yard run. Meyer won his heat in the preliminary, but it was only after a hard struggle. He got under way slowly, and did not draw even with the field until he reached the 100-yard mark. Then he cut loose with a little more speed and breezed in two feet in front of F. W. Flanagan, of the Knights of St. Anthony. But in the semi-finals Meyer was unable to get up at all, and was half a dozen yards out at the finish.

At a meeting on board the Granite State held on Friday night, the Naval Militia Regatta Association of the United States was formed. It will manage these races in the future. The officers elected were: Commander Russell Raynor, of New York, president; Lieutenant Commander R. B. Bolton, of Ohio, vice-president; Lieutenant Benjamin J. Soper, of New York, secretary, and Lieutenant L. E. Raff, of New York, treasurer.

Table of athletic records, listing names and scores for various events.

Table of athletic records, listing names and scores for various events.

SUNDAY'S NEW-YORK TRIBUNE Mailed anywhere in the United States for $2.50 a year.